Table of Contents

Fired in the NBA! Terminating Vin Baker’s Contract:
A Case-Study in Collective Bargaining, Guaranteed Contracts,
Arbitration, and Disability Claims in the NBA
Jason R. Marshall .................................................................1

Commerciality of Collegiate Sports:
Should the IRS Intercept?
Erin Guruli ........................................................................43

A New Approach to an Old Problem:
Could California’s Proposed Ban on “Redskins” Mascots in Public Schools Have Withstood a Constitutional Challenge?
Lauren Brock ....................................................................71

Title IX Compliance: Looking Past the Proportionality Prong
Elisa Hatlevig ....................................................................87

Are Amateur Sports Officials Employees?
Marc Sushner ....................................................................123
European Sports, the Transfer System and Competition Law: Will They Ever Find a Competitive Balance?
Stratis Camatsos ................................................................. 155

When the Game Ends, the Pandemonium Begins: University Liability for Field-Rushing Injuries
Marcus Misinec ................................................................. 181

Amateurism Stifles a Student-Athlete’s Dream
Christian Dennie .............................................................. 221

Bloom v. NCAA: A Procedural Due Process Analysis and the Need for Reform
Alain Lapter ................................................................. 255

Tulane Moot Court Mardi Gras Invitational: Problem ................................................................. 299
Winning Brief ................................................................. 313