

DEEPWATER HORIZON LECTURE SERIES

Tulane University Law School

Fall 2010

Open to all students and the general public

This lecture series is organized for Tulane law students, other students at Tulane and other universities, and the general public. It is offered free of charge. Its purpose is to provide background on one of the most notorious environmental disasters in recent history, and subjects for further research and scholarship. The lectures will be held in room 110 of Weinmann Hall, 6329 Freret Street, New Orleans on Monday afternoons from 4 to 5:15 pm, with the exceptions noted below. The speakers include faculty in several disciplines from the following universities: Tulane, California/Berkeley, LSU, UNO, Nicholls State, and Vermont. The presentations will also be available in electronic form. For further information, please contact Forest Wootten at fwootten@tulane.edu.

The schedule, subject to necessary changes, is as follows:

August 30 (Monday)	A Litigator's Glimpse at the Horizon and Class Orientation [This opening session is intended primarily for law students, but is open to all.]
September 7 (Tuesday)	Blowout: What Happened and What Went Wrong
September 13 (Monday)	The Gulf Ecosystem: Diversity and Threats
September 20 (Monday)	Oil on Water
September 24 (Friday, 2 - 5pm)	Legal Aspects - Maritime, Environmental and Civil law
September 27 (Monday)	Responses: Cleanup and Barriers
October 11 (Monday)	Impacts and Evaluation
October 18 (Monday)	Panel Discussion: Beyond BP